December 16, 20XX

Mr. Norman Campbell
President
New Printech Company
Sector – 17, Faridabad – 12190

Dear Mr. Campbell,

I write to you on the behalf of the company to cancel our order of ten printers from your company. The printer that you have delivered to us for one-week trial has not been performing well. Some functions that were specified in the brochure are poorly done by the printers. In addition, we have been experiencing problems of frequent paper jams and ink blots. Our technician has already checked and repaired the printer but the problem persists.

We have decided to buy another model of printers from your company. Please send us the brochures and the prices of your new model of printers. Our sales manager will conduct other details of this business with you.

Sincerely,
XXXXXX
Ms. Joan Rice

In this day and age, advertising is a big business. It puts a lot of effort into effectively informing the public about a product or service. Advertisements are introduced through a variety of means. Companies can choose from the print media, television, radio, or even huge billboards which suggest that we should buy this type of shoes or that type of cars. Advertising companies use a number of techniques to attract our attention, including stunning photography, eye-catching graphics or clever comments. Companies may employ famous people like film stars to recommend their products. However, many governments have introduced rules and regulations that advertisers must follow. These codes of conduct ensure that the advertisers don't make exaggerated claims or offend certain groups of people. In some countries, advertisements can be displayed only in specific areas. Furthermore, some countries do not approve of the advertising of certain products, like tobacco, so they do not allow such advertising at all.
